

To the FCC:

Please. We need not live in a society where the vast majority of news and information we consume is controlled by six trans-national media giants. A monopoly of our information culture invariably leads to censorship and an anti-democratic information culture. Let's work for greater diversity of media ownership, not less.